Great casseroles!
You can cook with them and at once serve the dishes. They remind me of sturdy porcelain treens of Victorian England, but not so formal and pompous.
And these casseroles are very useful for keeping the dishes in the fridge to enjoy them the next day also.

We are delighted to introduce the “Amberley collection” – our new range of porcelain tableware. It was inspired by the fusion of English culture grace and solidity of its centuries-old architecture. Thanks to white thin porcelain all the goods from this collection look neat and delicate. The stamped pattern recalls the stonework of Amberley castle built in the 12th century in the south of England. Graceful and elegant design of this new collection will bring comfort and style to any interior!

They made old brick walls look elegant and trendy! And this collection looks just amazing on the tabletop!*
